EUGENE WEEKLY, SEPTEMBER 2006

“Eugene’s first non-profit ballet school trains professional-quality dancers from age 4 and up. Marvel as company dancers perform...”

REGISTER-GUARD, SEPTEMBER 2006

Benefit for dance project spends evening in Tuscany

“An Evening in Tuscany, a benefit gala for Ballet Fantastique's Experience Dance! Project, will begin at 5 p.m. Saturday in the tasting room of Territorial Winery, 907 W. Third Ave. Classical guitar will be provided by Eugene musician Dave Sherry, with Mediterranean cuisine by Café Soriah. A silent auction will offer theme vacations and luxury baskets. All proceeds will benefit Ballet Fantastique's Experience Dance! Project, a effort to bring high-caliber classical ballet in innovative formats to nontraditional audiences, and scholarship support to dedicated young dancers.”

EUGENE WEEKLY, OCTOBER 2006

“Ballet Fantastique is offering 300 free tickets to area children for the Nov. 11 performance of Cakewalk Ballet: A Fall Fairytale Masquerade at the The Shedd. This chamber ballet will offer an evening of approachably friendly dance for families, with fairytale characters like Goldilocks, the Three Bears and Little Red Riding Hood.”

Children to be treated to ballet performance

“Free tickets are available for 300 children to see Ballet Fantastique at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Jaqua Concert Hall at the Shedd, 285 E Broadway. The performance will be ‘Cakewalk Ballet: A Fall Fairytale Masquerade’ - a product of American composers Leon Gottschalk and Hershy Kay. It features performances based on fairytale characters such as Goldilocks and Little Red Riding Hood. The free tickets are part of an effort to introduce classical dance to young audiences and are made possible by a grant from the Lane Arts Council.”
